

Our promises to you

These are the promises we make to anyone who's considering leaving a gift in their will to the NSPCC.

1 We're committed to making a difference to children, so we'll always ask people to leave something to the NSPCC, to raise awareness of the difference these gifts can make. But we recognise that it's your decision and you need to make it in your own time.

2 You can tell us that you've left a gift if you want to, and we'd love to hear – but you don't need to tell us.

3 We will always respect your privacy. We recognise and appreciate that your will is completely personal to you.

4 We also realise that, rightly, your family and loved ones will always come first.

5 If you do tell us, we'll do our best to keep you updated about the work we do, in the way you'd prefer.

6 We'll give you and your family as much choice as we can about how and where your gift will be used to keep children safe from abuse and neglect.

7 You have the right to change your mind about a gift in your will to the NSPCC at any time in the future, and you don't need to tell us if you do.

8 We'll use your gift carefully and cost effectively so that it has the greatest impact for children. And we'll handle whatever gift you leave us with care, sensitivity and respect.
